ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

RESMCR 2026 (VAANI) is to be hosted at Sanaka Educational Trust's Group of Institutions, Malandighi, located in the rural belt of Durgapur, West Bengal. The location itself reflects the central theme of the conference: bridging industrial innovation with rural sustainability.

Durgapur is a prominent hub of steel, energy, and research institutions, while Malandighi represents the aspirations and challenges of rural communities striving for climate-resilient and sustainable growth. Bringing the conference to this setting creates a meaningful connection between technological and industrial advancement and the need for inclusive, sustainable development in rural regions.

HIGHLIGHTS

By situating the conference here, VAANI 2026 underscores the need to translate renewable energy systems and sustainable materials into solutions that benefit both urban industries and rural societies. This regional grounding makes the event not only globally relevant but also locally impactful, aligning with West Bengal's vision of inclusive and sustainable development.
